

Corona-related travel regulations (as of 06.2021)

If you are travelling from abroad, please note the regulations of the Robert Koch Institute - travellers from e.g. virus-variant areas must adhere to quarantine regulations and may not be allowed to arrive. It is then not possible to stay overnight with us. Information on this can be found here:

https://www.rki.de/DE/Home/homepage_node.html?jsessionid=D4C9E0CD9A2E2A53116277FAFF385_FD7.internet101

The following applies to guests arriving from Germany:

You must present a valid - negative - (not older than 24h) Coronatest upon arrival, renew it every 48h and provide it to the reception without being asked (this can also be done by email in case of electronic test certificates).

If there is no test centre available at your place of origin, you can also have a quick test carried out free of charge directly on arrival here and in Hanover: these are offered by various test centres in Hanover and at our hotel. You can find a test centre near our hotel, for example, here:

<https://hygiene-ranger.de/testzentren/ikea-grossburgwedel-protocare>

Testing is possible here from Monday to Sunday. Please bring an official identification document with you.

You will receive the test result after about 15 minutes. You can then simply pass this on to reception. Please carry out this test before your arrival, e.g. on the way to the hotel.

You do not need to present or perform a test if the following apply:

1. you can prove your vaccination status by means of your vaccination card and an identity document, this must show 2 vaccinations completed at least 14 days ago.
2. after surviving a Corona infection, only 1 vaccination is required - this vaccination must have been completed 14 days ago. With your proof of infection (e.g. positive test result from the laboratory, or segregation order from the health office) and the single vaccination, you can also check in without a test - you are then also considered to be fully vaccinated.
3. you have recovered from a Corona infection that occurred no longer than 6 months ago. In this case, you must carry a certificate of recovery from your doctor or the public health department with you.

Exceptions to the compulsory test:

- travel that is absolutely necessary and cannot be postponed for professional or medical reasons
- the existence of another valid reason, such as a visit to a family member, a partner in a non-marital relationship, the exercise of a right of care or access, or - the provision of assistance or rights of access or the assistance or care of persons in need of protection
- the existence of an exemption permit by the competent health authority
